Hi there,
I'm Rita Jane!

I am a children's educator, illustrator and surface pattern designer who creates artwork to empower, inspire and delight!

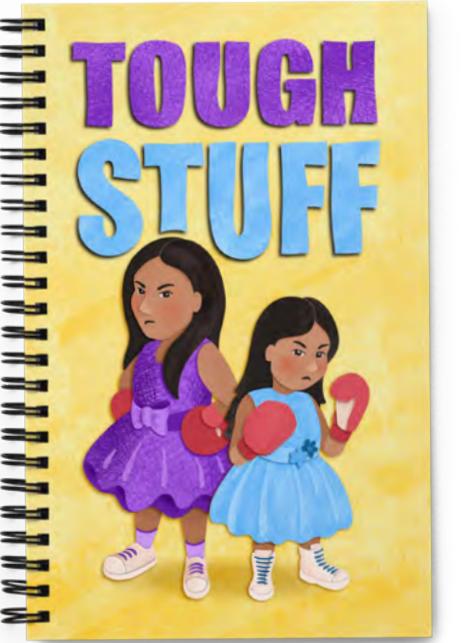

My playful illustration style and my decade of teaching children around the world provides me with a unique set of skills to create designs truly for children, considering their cognitive development, social-emotional skills, and love of fun!.

I work by hand and digitally, depending on the project, and my digital work is strongly influenced by the textures, shadows and authentic imperfections of working with one's hands.

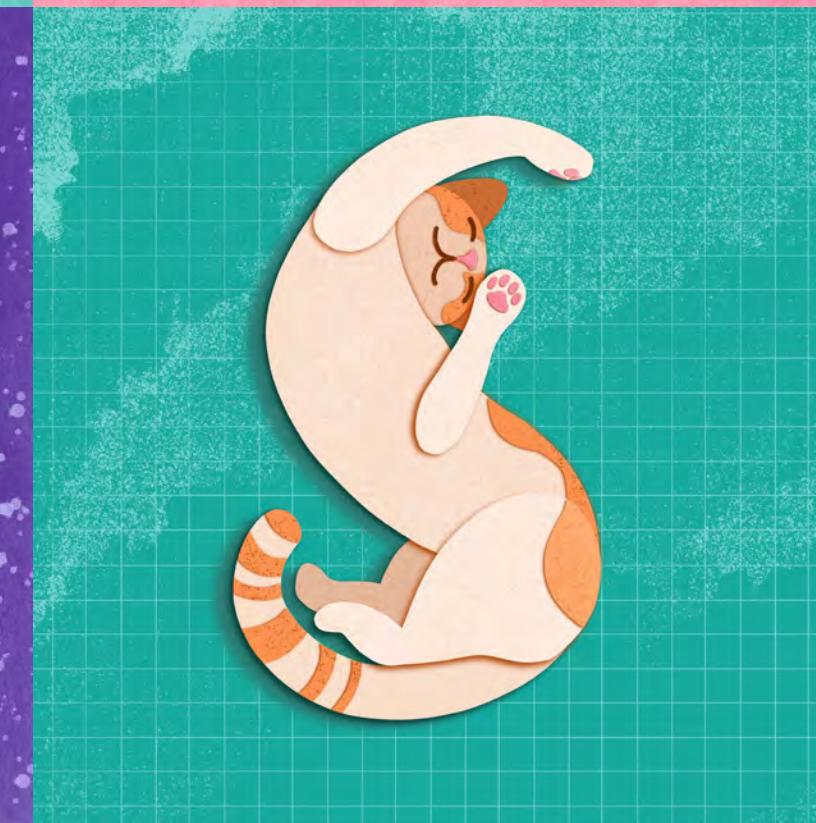

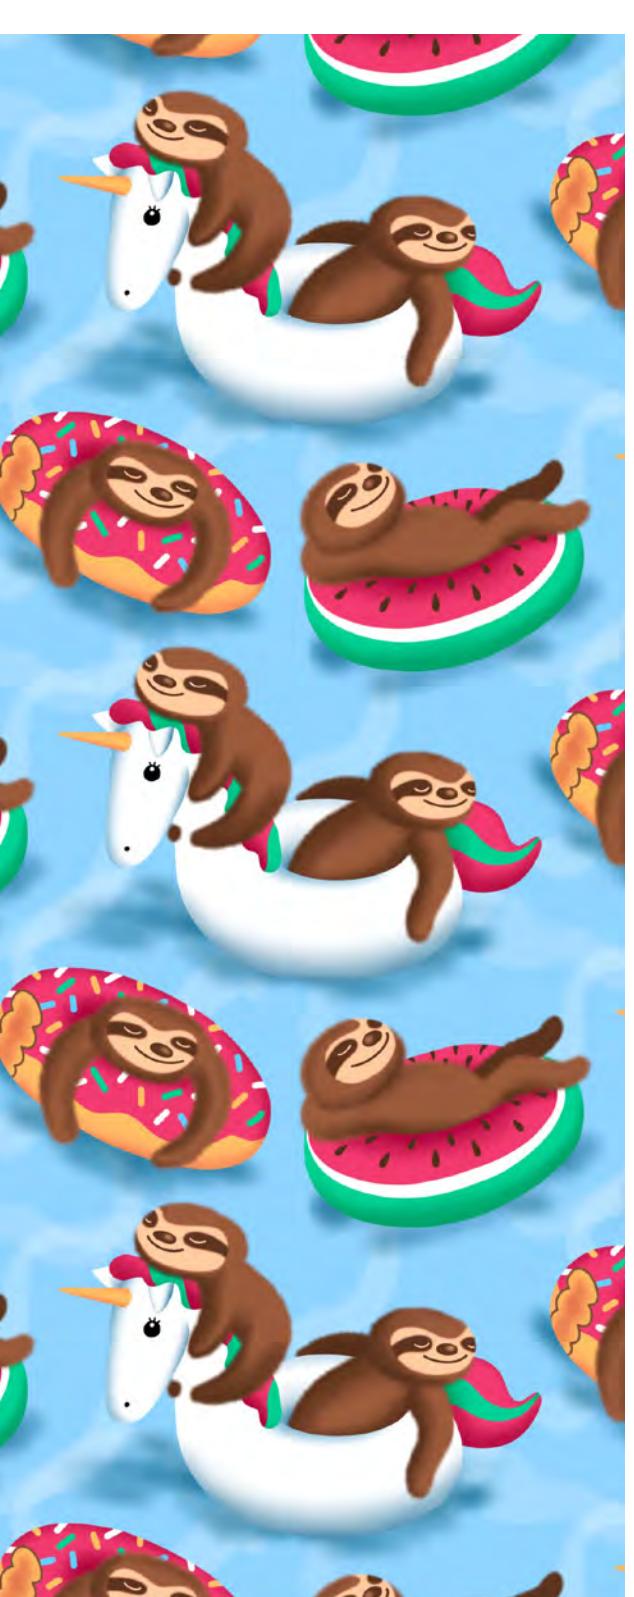

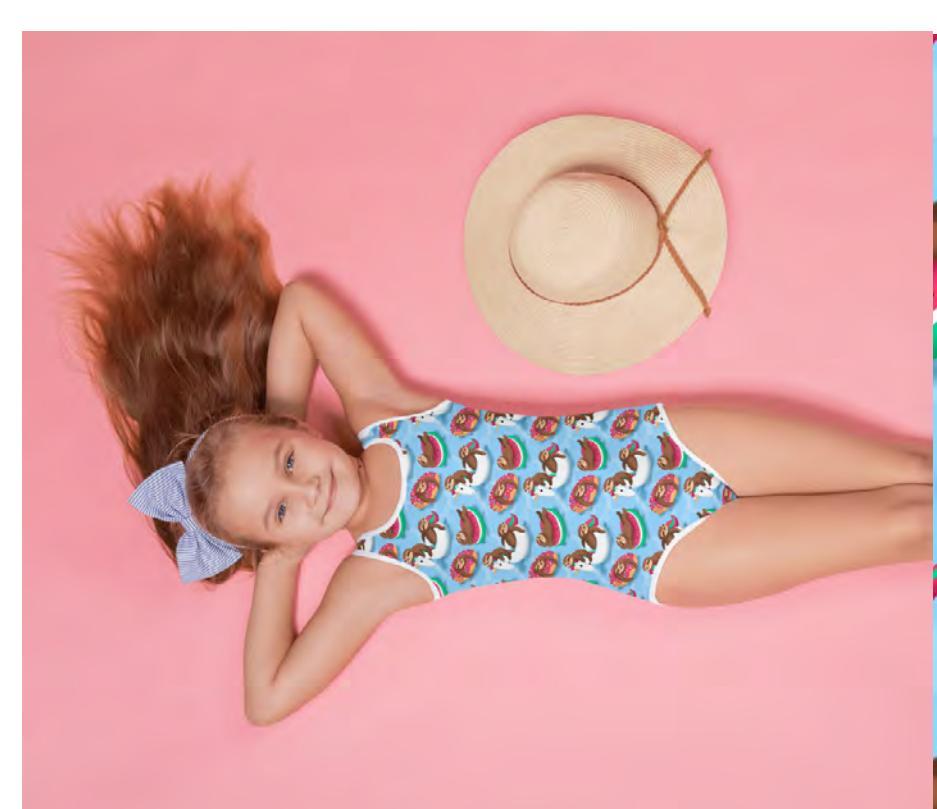

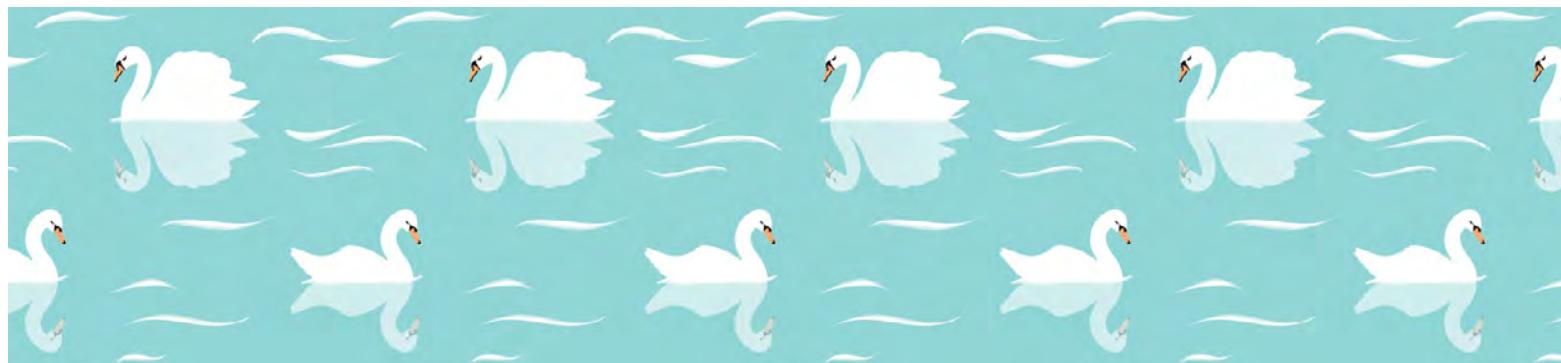

TOUGH STUFF

It would be a pleasure to talk to you about your upcoming projects. Please get in touch!
